

We 'move' the original population's mean to a new \bar{z}_i and calculate the average fitness at that new mean phenotype of the population to get the adaptive landscape, \bar{W}_i , then we combine the population mean and the average fitness to get the fitness function.